

Greg Bych
Chief Financial Officer

Greg Bych is responsible for managing SDCERA's finance, accounting, facilities and internal audit functions.

Prior to joining SDCERA in 2015, Bych worked at the City of San Diego for 25 years during which he held positions as Interim Chief Financial Officer and Director of Risk Management. Bych managed a quarter billion dollars in San Diego City programs, including workers' compensation, employee safety, employee benefits and the public liability programs.

Bych also served on the San Diego City Employees' Retirement System (SDCERS) Board and was a member of SDCERS' Investment Committee. He administered the City's 457 deferred compensation plan and served as a Trustee on the City's 401(k) and Supplemental Pension Savings Plan Board with almost one billion in assets.

Bych holds a B.A. in Economics from San Diego State University.
